OUR VISION

FOR IKOYI CLUB 1938

In

2012, when I was serving as Vice Chairman of our great club, the theme of the anniversary lecture was 'Ikoyi Club 1938 - The Place To Be'. This theme derived from our vision of Ikoyi Club 1938 as a place that set a glorious example for Nigeria as follows:

- The facilities in Ikoyi Club 1938 are of world class standard and members take great pride in them
- Members, coming from different walks of life, treat each other civilly and with great respect even when they disagree on issues. In the words of the Club motto, we promote and live 'Global Harmony through Recreation'
- Ikoyi Club 1938 has a set of rules, our Green Book, which defines how ALL members associate with each other. These rules apply consistently and equally to all members without exception and ALL breaches are sanctioned consistently and equitably without exception in line with these rules

Today the reality we have to face is that Ikoyi Club 1938 is no longer the prestigious Club it used to be. It is no longer held in the high esteem in which it used to be held. The reasons are multi-faceted:

1. The infrastructure has deteriorated and has not been properly maintained to keep it in the condition that used to attract the envy of other similar establishments. Our infrastructure is no longer the benchmark for social clubs in Nigeria.
2. Service delivery levels have dropped significantly and the constant complaints by members is about poor service
3. Transparency in the running of Club affairs is no longer the order of the day
4. Discipline and adherence to Club rules is extremely lax

The overarching commitment of this General Committee is to make Ikoyi Club 1938 the prestigious club it used to be that will evoke pride in members and envy in non-members. To achieve this we have set out the following plans:

- i. This General Committee will strictly comply with club rules in all facets of running the club. This means that individuals, no matter the position they occupy, the Chairman inclusive, will not unilaterally take decisions on behalf of the Club as had become prevalent. All transactions and decisions will follow due process as enshrined in the Club rules and operating regulations. This will ensure that the Club and thus the members get optimum value for all expenditure and in turn members will not pay excessive charges for goods and services they procure in the Club.

- ii. This General Committee is committed to allowing the Management to run the Club as required by the Club's operating regulations without meddling or interfering and thus be able to hold Management accountable for the satisfactory running of the Club. To enable this strategy succeed, we will work to support and guide management and ensure that we have competent people in the various positions and that appropriate training is provided where necessary

- iii. This General Committee is committed to developing a road map that will address all the deficiencies identified above which have resulted in Ikoyi Club 1938 no longer being the prestigious Club it used to be. To this end a special Sub-Committee has been constituted and charged to define what a prestigious Ikoyi Club 1938 would look like and what it will take to get us there. This Sub-Committee, known as the 5-Star Upgrade Sub-Committee has commenced work and is expected to turn in its report in June 2017.

This General Committee is committed to continuously engaging the members of Ikoyi Club 1938 to hear from them their expectations and also to keep them abreast of plans and intentions of the General Committee so as to ensure that member's desires and expectations are factored into our plans. To this end, we will be convening a Town Hall meeting with members before the August Half-Year General Meeting to discuss our intentions and plans with members and listen to their views. Details of this meeting will be confirmed as soon as possible.

Dear Members of Ikoyi Club 1938, in the words of a current member of the General Committee to members of his section, 'We are here to serve you, at your pleasure!' If there is any way in which we fall short of serving you, please let us know immediately. I give you my personal assurance that such perceived shortcomings will be promptly and satisfactorily addressed.

Thank you.
Long Live Ikoyi Club 1938!

Babatunde Akinleye
Chairman, Ikoyi Club 1938

Children's Corner

Do you know this expression?

The ball is in your court

When the ball is in your court, it means that it is your turn to act or take responsibility and you must do something. The expression is derived from the tennis game, a tennis ball goes back and forth between two players and you must hit the ball when it is in your court.

Communication can be the same way too. When your friend says something to you and waits for your reply, the ball is in your court to give him whatever kind of reply you want. For example, I have done all I can to help you and now the ball is in your court to make the effort worthwhile.

ETIQUETTE FOR CHILDREN

Good manners are a reflection of a person's heart and soul. There is nothing as beautiful to a parent as when complimented on having well-mannered children. When a child looks beyond himself in consideration of another, he adds so much joy to the lives of others

Etiquette for children is therefore ranked as the most important quality to nurture in children and it starts in the family home.

Here are some tips:

- If the door is closed, it is respectful and good manners to knock and wait for permission to enter
- Do not interrupt when adults are talking. Wait for a break in their conversation and ask for permission to speak.
- If you want to borrow something, don't just help yourself, always ask for permission and return whatever it is you borrow.
- Never go looking through another person's private possessions without their permission. That is extremely bad mannered.
- Don't expect anyone to clean up after you. Leave the bathroom, toilet, kitchen and TV room clean and tidy. Don't leave dirty dishes around the house. Your wet towels and dirty dishes are your responsibility.
- Try real hard not to embarrass anyone. What may seem humorous and teasing may be embarrassing to others
- Greeting and meeting people are also important lessons that children must learn, here are some tips:
- Open the door and invite guests in, smile and be welcoming.
- Be respectful and not smart mouthed especially when greeting adults or being asked a question. Answer politely and then excuse yourself if you need to.
- If you have a friend staying over, introduce your friend to the visitors so they can all get along.
